June 25, 2021 • No. 1 … for the Bellwether Community

Spotlight on Founding/Platinum Sustaining Sponsor: Vizient Inc.

Based on Vizient’s mission and vision for healthcare and customer service, how do you see Bellwether League Foundation’s Hall of Fame for Healthcare Supply Chain Leadership fitting into, representing and reinforcing Vizient’s branding and reputation?

“Vizient’s vision is to support our members in three areas – cost, quality and market performance. We believe cost and quality are critical in the truly integrated clinical supply chain, focusing on the entire continuum of care; therefore, creating great market growth potential. Recognizing leadership that is embracing this needed change is important to Vizient.”

• Rand Ballard, Chief Customer Officer, Vizient Inc.

What’s happening with Bellwether League Foundation now

Currently, the Board of Directors and Advisory Council remain hard at work on three key projects:

1. Determining who will enter the Future Famers Class of 2021 and the Bellwether Class of 2021.

2. Developing and recording content for the 2021 virtual Healthcare Supply Chain Leadership Forum, which is scheduled for broadcast online on Wednesday, July 28, 1:00 p.m.-4:00 p.m. Central. Stay tuned for more event details, which includes three blockbuster educational sessions and a cast of influential speakers, and sponsored by GHX.

3. Preparing for the 14th Annual Bellwether League Foundation Induction & Recognition Event (BLFIRE14) to return LIVE this fall (Monday, October 4) at The Westin-O’Hare. We hope you can and plan to join us.

Spotlight on Bronze Sustaining Sponsor: Allina Health

Based on Allina Health’s mission and vision for healthcare and customer service, how do you see Bellwether League Foundation’s Hall of Fame for Healthcare Supply Chain Leadership fitting into, representing and reinforcing Allina Health’s branding and reputation?

“At Allina Health, our mission is to serve our communities by providing exceptional care as we prevent illness, restore health and provide comfort to all to entrust us with our care. To live this mission out requires applying our collective talents to help those we serve to do more, feel stronger and live better lives. Bellwether League Foundation’s continued focus on recognizing and inspiring the talent necessary to supporting the excellence in supply chain and its contributions to a stronger care management model intertwines the focus on developing the acumen necessary to deliver on this purpose.

“Whole Person Care’ for those we serve recognizes that all factors affecting health care are connected – mind, body and spirit. Our ‘Whole Person Care’ at Allina is how we enable all team members to excel through investing in our people and our culture. Bellwether League Foundation certainly supports the excellence we continue to instill among the supply chain executive community by investing the resources required to advance our critical work. Bellwether League Foundation laces these three connected elements of ‘Whole Person Care’ as elements essential in building leadership strength and supply chain capability.”

Spotlight on Corporate & Professional Sponsor: HealthLinks

Based on HealthLinks’ mission and vision for healthcare and customer service, how do you see Bellwether League Foundation’s Hall of Fame for Healthcare Supply Chain Leadership fitting into, representing and reinforcing HealthLinks’ branding and reputation?

“For 28 years our mission hasn’t changed: To Link Buyers and Suppliers together; to work with hospital systems and their leaders who are open to exploring suppliers with disruptive technology and/or value but find it hard to be heard. Most of these companies can impact not only total cost, but outcomes and quality. In our view, Bellwether League Foundation recipients, venerable and up-and-coming, are represented and honored as such.
